

Our Advocate

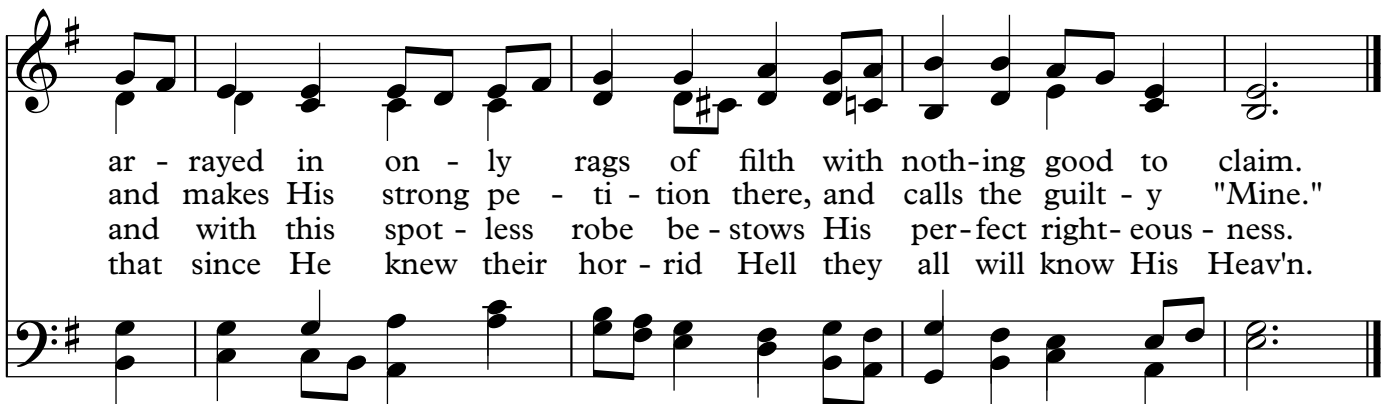

1. Be - fore the dread - ful Judg - ment Throne of hol - i - ness and pow'r
2. But hope re - mains, for near the Throne an Ad - vo - cate now stands.
3. The pen - al - ty re - served for them by Him is ful - ly paid.
4. No long - er strick - en still by fear nor dread - ing pun - ish - ment, a ter - ri - fy - ing scene is shown of sin - ners' fate - ful hour.

He lives the pre - cious ones to own whose names are on His hands.
No long - er can their debt con - demn; a - tone - ment has been made.
the ran - somed raise their heads to hear the ver - dict: "In - no - cent!"

For there the Law re - veals their guilt and all will fall in shame,
Be - fore the sen - tence comes to bear He stays the Judge Di - vine,
He takes their filth - y, tat - tered clothes and gives them His own dress,
To those He has de - fend - ed well as - sur - ance now is giv'n ar - rayed in on - ly rags of filth with noth - ing good to claim.

and makes His strong pe - ti - tion there, and calls the guilt - y "Mine."
and with this spot - less robe be - stows His per - fect right - eous - ness.
that since He knew their hor - rid Hell they all will know His Heav'n.
